

Jr. Mint

Visiting the Mint as a Family

Helpful Hints

Talk about the museum rules. Kids appreciate knowing what is expected of them.

Plan multiple visits. Trying to see the entire museum in one day can be overwhelming.

“Fuel up” with a snack or drink in an approved area before going into the galleries.

Seek out kid-friendly resources provided by the museum.

Be aware that art may sometimes address challenging or mature subjects.

Museum Rules

PLEASE DO

- Stay close to your family. Kids 12 and under must always be with an adult.
- Ask about photography and sketching policies if you're going to click or draw!

PLEASE DO NOT

- Touch the artwork, cases, or walls.
- Bring food, drink, or chewing gum into any of the galleries.
- Play on the escalators, or run.
- Step or sit on the platforms that hold the art.

A full listing of Visitor Policies is available at the Front Desk.

Turn over for Fun Things to Do! ➡

Let's explore the MUSEUM!

Fun Things to Do!

Postcard Hunt – Purchase postcards from the Museum Shop and find the “real thing” in the galleries. Use the postcard to send a message to a friend!

Color Walk – Choose a color and search for it in the art. Find each family member's favorite color, or look for animals or shapes.

Terrific Titles – “Rename” a work of art, taking turns with your family creating new titles and making up stories about the art.

Pay Attention! – Give your group 60 seconds to look carefully at one work of art, then ask them to turn their backs to it. Quiz them on details.

My Favorite – At the beginning of your visit, tell everyone to choose his or her favorite work of art, and to keep it a secret until the end of the visit. Then guess which work each family member has chosen!

Are you in the Jr. Mint Kids Club?

Discover the benefits of Mint membership at mintmuseum.org/membership.

All 2010-2011 educational programs for children, youth, and teachers are supported in part by a generous grant from The Hearst Foundation, Inc.

This project is supported in part by an award from the National Endowment for the Arts.