

Paxton Frith earned his undergraduate degree in architecture from UNC-Charlotte in the spring of 2024 and intends to graduate with his masters of architecture from UNCC in the spring of 2025. His passion for architecture lies in structure and representation, using tools such as Rhino3d, Blender, the Adobe Suite, and others to bring ideas to life and ground them in reality. He also works for Ramsey Burgin Smith Architects in Salisbury, NC developing his skills in construction documents and design development.
